Once before his a triple play been made. That was in 1903 when the circuit was still known as the Missouri Valley league. Shurtstop Pennington of Fort Scott was the hero. The Giants were at Iola. A man was on second and one on third. A high drive was batted at man who had been on second and up into the air, got the sphere, touched the man who had been on second and was running to third, and whizzed the ball to third in time to catch the man there, who had started home. It was a triple play unassisted and at the time created a great deal of comment all over the western baseball world.

6	it took the Miners six innings to make two hits, while in the same length of time Topeka got filme and the game. Altogether, Horton was touched up by the White Legs ten times. Hughes got just the same amount of bombarding from the pick-handlers. In the seventh and eighth innings they came highly close to cutting his ballous loose, getting seven safe case, in those two innings and making fiverums. But it was too near the end, and Topeka's lead was too great. Vanderhill's poor throwing to second, caused the hase theft list to run up to hig proportions. Altogether Topeka purloined six, which is too many. On the other hand, Charley Stewart allowed the visitors but one walk to the middle sack. TOPEKA. Player— AB. R. H. PO. A. E. On Saturday morning T. A. Neal formally turned over the ownership of the Guthric Western Association baseball franchise to a stock company in the Senator town. He was paid a sum of $1,300, which includes the franchise guarantee fund, uniforms, supplies and all other properties. The new organization will be a stock company and all of the properties. The new organization will be a stock company and all of the baseball enthusiasts in Guthrie will be asked to subscribe stock, which will be sold at 25 cents per share. By this method the franchise will in reality be owned by the fans of the city, and will be a permanent organization, not only for this year, but for succeeding ones. The first step which the new regime took, was to release Manager Hamilton, and reengage Ed Hickey to play third base and captain the team. Hickey was let go several days past, without a reason being given. Though Hamilton, and reengage Ed Hickey to play third base and captain the team. Hickey was let go several days past, without a reason being given. Though with the team but a week he put ginger into the hearts of the players and they showed an effective brace. Then the ax fell and he went to the weeds. Neal got tired of the baseball business and upon his intimation of this fact, a stock company was at once suggested by Guithrie fans, organized, and on Saturday made a formal purchase of the team. President Shiveley was present at the conference at which the transfer was made. "Ben" Bennett, who played with Guthrie in the Oklahoma City State league last year was appointed temporary manager, and he went with President Shiveley to Leavenworth where the Senators completed a series of four games Sunday. Last night in the Woodpecker town Hamilton was given his walking papers and Ed Hickey given the captaincy of the team. Bennett will manage for a time to see how things go. He may keep the job all season.

From the Chicago Tribune: The spit ball is said to be hastening its own funeral. It is accused of undermining the constitutions of the pitchers addicted to its use. And what looks worse pected to write light and alry things about the game are running out of other names to call it. Such terms as the salivated sphere, the sputum spinner, the Blue Point express, the devil of the duct, and the moist meanderer are beginning to sound trite. The ball should be prohibited—or at least sterilized between innings.

From the Wichita Eagle: Since Topeka has placed a dinner gong in the series here. The best slways originates in Wichita.

It is said that Catcher Ulrich of Leavenworth is slated for release. No reasons are given. Armstrong is still shaking 'em up over at the Woodpecker town. In fact he has been raitling the bottle so hard that the cork is flying out and his team is getting weaker.
